Corrigenda - ZooNova 56

Corrections to Nomenclature, Taxonomic Authorities, and Taxonomic Identifications in ZooNova 56, p. 1-11

Since publication, an anonymous reviewer has identified several errors relating to nomenclature and taxonomic accuracy. The authors wish to acknowledge and thank this reviewer for the helpful comments and assistance.

Parentheses should be removed from the authorship and date associated with Anatrichus pygmaeus Lamb, 1918 in the opening page title, page 1 title, Abstract, Figure 1 caption, Figure 3 caption, and Figure 4 caption.

The same correction applies to Anatrichus erinaceus var. pygmaea Lamb, 1918, the original name under which Anatrichus pygmaeus was established. A change in rank within the species group does not require the use of parentheses around the author and date (ICZN Article 51.3.2).

In the "Life History and Biology" section, Atherigona soccata should be referred to as a member of the family Muscidae rather than Anthomyiidae.

Additionally, "Oryzae sp." should be corrected to "Oryza sp." throughout. The current combination Scirpophaga incertulas Walker, 1863 should also be used in place of the historical combination Schoenobius incertulas Walker, 1863.
